12. Cycling without Age:

Normally the $85.21 Grant would be given to the Transit Commission to cover costs associated with delivering transportation to the elderly and disabled. Due to pandemic funding, the Transit Commission's costs have been covered entirely by Federal funds in 2020 and 2021. This resulted in the $85.21 grant being put into the trust account, which has a balance of over $200,000. Mr. Joel Gottsacker presented the Cycling without Age Program, which provides the opportunity for older adults who can no longer ride a bike a ride in a "trishaw" – a three-wheeled electric bike like a reverse rickshaw. This would mainly be used to get people who are in assisted livings/nursing homes etc. out and on a ride but not intended for a taxi service. The bicycles cost approximately $10,000-$15,000 per bike. The pilot of the bike would be a volunteer (with training) possibly through the RSVP Program. Would like to get a sponsor who would organize the rides, etc. and we would provide the bikes and the volunteers. Mr. Gottsacker is meeting with different organizations. Will bring back to the committee as the process progresses. Informational only, no action taken.
